Rev. J. W. West Made to Leave the State.

The Rev. J. W. West, formerly superintendent of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League, has resigned and will leave the State. His resignation was promised by his friends and fellow-workers in a Cattlesburg Methodist church on the day of the local option election, April 4, following an angry denunciation by R. R. Barton, who, in the presence of a number of ministers and others, and with a pistol in his hand, declared that West had insulted his twelve-year-old daughter. Mr. Barton explained that he had started out to kill West, and only the delay in finding the Anti-Saloon League leader had saved his life. It had given him time to reason. Mr. Barton said West had taken advantage of the child in one of the Cattlesburg churches after the local option election had been concluded. West admitted last night that he had been indiscreet, but said he had meant no harm. The scene in the church among the leaders of the Anti-Saloon movement when the dramatic accusation was made is said to have been intense. West was hurried away and Mr. Barton was promised that he would be required to resign his work in this State. All were charged to maintain the utmost secrecy and had Mr. Barton been notified, as he says he was promised, of West's resignation, it is likely that none of the distressing circumstances would never have become known to the public. The Rev. West admitted what he described as indiscretion.

This is the man that filled the pulpit at the Christian church in Paris Sunday morning, April 18th, and on the same evening spoke for the Anti-Saloon League at a Union meeting of all the churches at the Methodist church. These charges had been known by the President of the Anti-Saloon League, Rev. W. B. Beauchamp, who says that they were in the hope of covering up.

Beach Hargis Gets Life Sentence

The jury in the Beach Hargis case, after being out nearly twenty-four hours, brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree and fixing his punishment at life in the penitentiary. The patricide showed little emotion when the verdict was read, although his mother, who had stood by him so valiantly, had an expression of disappointment. The attorneys for Hargis, after a consultation, decided to apply for a new trial. In case a new trial is refused the case will be taken to the Court of Appeals.

The End of a Bloody Chapter.

[From "Marse" Henri Watterson.]

The pardons issued by Governor Willson to all save the wretch, Youtsey, who have been indicted for complicity in the murder of William Goebel, might have been foreshadowed by the pardons issued to Powers and Howard, and may therefore provoke no surprise; but the act of executive clemency in advance of trial will meet the approval only of partisans incapable of conceiving unpalatable truth, carrying with it the tacit acceptance of the unknown, the unthinking and the indifferent.

The case against W. S. Taylor, and his immediate associates, seems to us overwhelmingly and conclusive. Who actually discharged the weapon which gave William Goebel his death stroke has never been clearly established; but the mountain army assembled at Frankfort that made assassination readily possible and apparently safe, the fatal shot which was fired from the window of Powers' private office in the Executive Building, the instant envelopment of this Building occupied by Taylor and his friends by a company of their own troops held under arms for emergency expected for that day and hour, the refusal of Taylor and his adherents to admit the Civil Officers, or to afford them any assistance, the state of siege maintained by them against intrusion for nearly a week, the pardons issued by Taylor to Powers and others, the flight of Taylor, Finley and the rest, point unerringly and with index finger to guilt. There is no escape from this conclusion for an unprejudiced mind.

Whether there was reasonable hope of a verdict that would hold in any of the cases, since so many mistrials had followed the several convictions of Powers, is a question. Perhaps not: the passage of time dulling the edge of public interest, joined to the interposition of party spirit, which rarely sleeps and never dies, might be urged—and indeed is urged by Governor Willson for thus clearing the docket, his purpose being, as he declares, "to end the angry strife of years." That remains for time to determine. We cannot so see it, although not less than the Governor the Courier-Journal would itself be "a missionary of peace and good will."

All that can be said in mitigation, not justification, of Taylor and his associates, may be summed up in the plea that party politics in Kentucky had reached a state of quasi civil war; that both sides had proceeded to great excesses; that to the tragic denouement, each side had given itself over to passion and had lost all sense of responsibility and proportion; and that, during a tension stretched to the breaking point, there arose a state of temporary insanity finding the pretext, the means and excuse for whatever appeared to the inflamed fancy of the men in possession to be necessary to maintain this position.

The original plan is alleged to have been the killing of Democrats enough to create a Republican majority. The killing of Goebel was finally deemed sufficient and he was accordingly shot down. These things the Prosecution claimed to be able to establish by Youtsey's confession, and in that connection it may not be forgotten that the Republicans stood as savagely by Youtsey, as by all the others, until he confessed.

There were persons implicated whose names have never reached the public, is the general belief, and this lays certain basis for the plea that Taylor and Finley and the others should not pay the entire forfeit having already suffered exile, ruin and disgrace.

The Courier-Journal conceives itself, as to these transactions, a wholly unprejudiced witness. No love was lost between it and the radical Democrats who carried things with so high a hand during the dark days and troublous times reaching from 1896 to 1900. It earnestly and constantly, though vainly, sought to moderate their programme of extremism. Though the wisdom of each of its warnings was verified by events they needed none of them. Finally, reduced to the alternative of Goebel et al, or Taylor et al, it went with its lifelong political comrades and against its lifelong political adversaries, giving frank and truthful exposition of the political situation and its own attitude, and meeting full in front the execration of both sides.

Never was there a political campaign as implacable and unscrupulous. Never was there an election more foul. And, let us add, never was there a murder so useless; because, as history may one day tell, there were two votes in the General Assembly which, to the hour of the shooting upon Capitol Square, were set against the seating of Goebel and the displacement of Taylor.

The sincerity of Governor Willson's declaration that he is "absolutely sure that Governor William S. Taylor had no part in, nor thought of the murder of William Goebel," need not be questioned. It very well illustrates the old truism that party eyes are blind. To us it is equally clear that William Goebel fell the victim of a conspiracy to kill, and that those indicted therefor and now pardoned, representing the several dispositions of the conspiracy, are too deeply implicated by the proof, circumstantial and direct, to stand acquitted in the estimation of intelligent people advised of the facts; not the least criminative of these being that, from first to last—including Youtsey, a mere nonentity, having no original volition until he turned State's evidence—the Republican party, its leaders and officials, bent every effort to defend the accused and to baffle the course of legal inquiry.

In conclusion, the Courier-Journal has only to say that it regards the campaign document which the Governor appends to his pardons, as an assault upon the integrity of the people and the honor of the judicial system of Kentucky, and without warrant of any kind; especially, when he reflects upon the rulings of the Democratic Court of Appeals, giving Powers, the convicted of three juries, the benefit of every technicality and every doubt, and the additional circumstance that with the State Government now in the hands of the Republicans, there is not the shadow of a pretext for his attack.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of curing. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy or known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

MRS. LOU F. CONWAY.—Mrs. Gus Lee, widow of the Rev.
Thomas Steven Lee, died Saturday at Orlando, Fla. Her married life was spent in and around Millersburg. Her husband, who preceded her to the grave by many years, was formerly pastor of the old Associate Reform church, later he went into the Presbyterian church here and for a short time served as pastor. The remains of Mrs.
Lee arrived from Florida Wednesday night and were taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Allen and buried from thence Thursday afternoon in the family lot beside her husband and children. Services by Rev. W. O. Cochran, of Georgetown.—An alarm of fire was sounded about 6:45 Monday evening. It was found to come from the gasoline and coal oil house of Miller & Best on Fifth street. Mr. Emmet Mastin had gone in to draw a can of gasoline, it being somewhat dark he struck a match to see if the can was full and gas from the gasoline took fire. He attempted to escape from the building with the burning can and was soon enveloped in a sheet of flame leaping several feet above his head. With rare presence of mind he rushed to a water barrel at the rear of Miller & Best's store and at the same time was discovered by George S. Hill, who plunged him into the barrel, thus probably saving him from a horrible death. One arm and hand was slightly burned but with this exception he was unhurt. Hill then rushed to the oil house and succeeded in extinguishing the flame before any serious harm was done.

The Sultan Deposed.

Abdul Hamid II., Sultan of Turkey, was deposed Tuesday from the throne of the Ottoman empire by his subjects
for his interference with the progress of popular government under the constitution granted by him last July,
and his brother, Mohammed Reschad Effendi, now occupies the throne. The change was decided upon by the National Assembly without a dissenting voice and it was carried out with the utmost rapidity. The new Sultan will be officially known as Mehmed V.

EGYPTIAN BARON

Is a black horse 15.2. A grand individual and one of the best representatives of the great Baron Wilkes, now known as the Futurity family. He is one of the fastest best headed horses in Kentucky, and has been a mile over my three-quarter track, which is at least three seconds slower than Lexington, in 2:09 1/4, last half in 1:03 1/4, last quarter in :30 1/4. Although a pacer, he was a natural and fast trotter, and could trot in 2:40 at 2 years old. Was raced a little last season for education, and proved himself a game, level headed race horse, and if he stays right, we predict a record of 2:05 or better this year. He has served a few mares, and his colts are good individuals and fast. Egyptian Baron will serve a few approved mares at $25 to insure a Living Foal.

Care taken, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes.
Money due in all cases if mare changes hands or is parted with. Mares kept on grass at $1 per week.

Paris Loses Two to Winchester.

In one of the most exciting games of base ball ever played, the Bourbonites lost, Wednesday, at Winchester in the opening game of the Blue Grass League by a score of 4 to 2.

The game was quick, snappy, and was replete with many brilliant plays. Paris got a run over the rubber in the first, fourth and fifth innings, while up to the seventh Winchester was tallying a big lot of goose eggs.

The crowd that witnessed the game was an enthusiastic one, and was augmented by nearly 250 local fans who reached Winchester at 2:15 p. m. on a special Louisville & Nashville train.

The Bourbonites were met by their rivals with a brass band, and with both clubs leading the way in vehicles, the Paris boys, largely augmented by Winchester fans, marched direct to the ball park.

Practice work was quick and sharp, and promptly at 3:30 Umpire Donahue called play.

Paris was first at the bat and scored a run after two were out. Bardo the first up, fanned, while Reed was out, Ingels to Campbell. Hannagan reached first on Barney's fumble of a slow one, and went to second on a passed ball. Barnett hit to deep center for two bases, scoring Hannagan. Oschs struck out, retiring the side.

Winchester looked dangerous in their half, filling the bases. McAllister struck out, Goostree going to first by being hit. Campbell fielded to center. Ellis hit a hot grounder to Hannagan and took first. Goostree going to second. Barney walked, filling the bases. Ingels flied to left, retiring the side and greatly relieving the Paris fans.

In the second Parrish walked and went to second on Key's sacrifice, Elgin and Fleming struck out, retiring the side.

Winchester went out in one two three order, Horn batted a slow one and died, Hannagan to Parrish. Chapman hit to short and was thrown out at first while McAllister fanned.

Chapman made quick work of the visitors in the third. Bardo popped a fly to Chapman and was out. Reed hit a slow one to Goostree and died at first. Hannagan hit to second and was out. Barney to Campbell, retiring the side.

Paris played great ball, fielding like veterans and retiring Winchester in one two three order.

In the fourth Paris added another run. Barnett hit to center for two base and went to third on Oschs' bunt, the latter being safe on Campbell's fumble. Oschs stole second. Parrish popped a low one to Barney, and on Key's slow one to Goostree. Barnett scored. Oschs being caught at third. Elgin went out on a fly to Barney.

In the latter half of the fourth Ingels batted a high one to left that looked good for a home run but the fleet-footed Reed on a dead run with the ball caught it as it went over his head.

This same feat was duplicated in the seventh inning when Schmidt caught Bardo's fine hit.

Schmidt popped a low one to Bardo while Horn flied to Reed, retiring the side.

In the fifth Paris scored their last run of the game and had two men left on bases. Fleming was out on a grounder, Ingels to Campbell. Bardo took first on a fumble by Campbell, who duplicated and allowed Reed to reach first on a swift hit to Chapman. Bardo going to second.

Hannagan singled, scoring Bardo. Reed going to second.

Barnett was out, Chapman to Campbell, and Oschs flied to center retiring the side.

Winchester could do nothing, the in and out fields of the Paris aggregation being a veritable stone wall.

Chapman flied to left, McAllister popped a foul to Horn, and Goostree a slow one to Bardo.

The Bourbonites were retired in the sixth in quick order. Parrish hit a slow one and was out, Ingels to Campbell. Key flied to left and Elgin was thrown out, Chapman to Campbell.

Winchester slunk again in their half of the sixth, getting another goose egg and causing their supporters to utter many expressions indicating deep disgust and disappointment.

In the seventh Fleming popped a fly to Goostree and was out. Bardo flied to Schmidt and Reed fanned.

Winchester came to the bat in their half wearing a desperate look. Just whether their warlike appearance frightened the Paris bunch or not will perhaps never be known, but something out of the ordinary seemed to take possession of the Paris boys and up in a balloon they went.

Ingels reached first on Bardo's error. Schmidt was safe on Parrish's fumble of his grounder to third, the ball rolling some distance, allowing both men to advance a base. Horn popped a fly to short. Chapman, who had all along been pitching a steady game, stepped to the plate and drove a hard one to center for two bases, Ingels and Schmidt scoring. McAllister flied to center, and Goostree was out, Barnett to Parrish, retiring the side.

Neither side scored in the eighth.

The game was lost in the ninth in almost the same order as the fatal seventh.

Schmidt went all the way to third on a grounder, which passed between first and second, and on through Key's legs in right field. Horn beat out a slow bunt to Fleming and a moment later went to second.

Chapman again came to the bat and won his own game, driving another beauty for two bases to right center, scoring Schmidt and Horn. The score:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Paris 1 0 0 0 1 1 0 0 3
Winchester 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 2 4

Batteries—Paris: Fleming and Elgin; Winchester: Chapman and Horn.

Struck out—By Fleming, 2; by Chapman, 8.

Hits—Paris, 7; Winchester, 5.

Two-baggers—Chapman, 2; Barnett, 2.

NOTES.

The strong Shelbyville cant that defeated Frankfort, Wednesday, by a score of 3 to 2, will play the first game of the season with the Bourbonites to day. It will be a gala day in the old town. In response to the proclamation of the Mayor Mr. Merchants will give half-holiday to their employees, so they can attend the opening League game. There will be a parade, headed by the Elks' Band, to the grounds. Let everybody go and give the boys a rousing send off.

Remember that rooting is a good thing for a home team. You should have been at Winchester, Wednesday, where it was demonstrated by the Winchester people.

Pitcher Guinn, of Huntington, West Va., is a new recruit signed by Manager Elgin for trial. He is said to be the "proper thing." He had signed with the Lexington club, but asked for his release so he could come to Paris.

Fleming did good work in the box at Winchester. He pitched a heady game. It was a hard game to loose.

The crowd that witnessed the game at Winchester, Wednesday, was estimated at 1,600 people.

Barnett, the Wagner of the Paris team, was much in evidence from start to finish at Winchester.

Bardo, the second baseman, is rounding out all right.

With 250 Paris people at the ball game and 100 at the races Main street presented a deserted appearance Wednesday afternoon.

It was a hard one for the boys to loose.

There is consolation in the fact that the great Wagner made two errors that lost Pittsburg a game a few days ago.

Quite a number of the fair sex went over to witness the game.

Paris rooters got in their work early in the game and by the time the fatal seventh and ninth innings arrived were too hoarse to give utterance to their disappointment.

This Paris crowd embraced fans in every walk of life. Lawyers, doctors, editors, ministers, bankers, merchants and laborers.

Here, you Mr. Winchester fan, the end of the season is a long way off and don't let your temporary exultation carry you beyond the limits of prudence. Did you notice how cleanly the Paris aggregation handled the ball and how well they throw to bases. With a little stage fright cast aside and a big supply of self confidence regulated, we expect to drive you to the wall. Come over to Paris as strong in numbers and enthusiasm as when we invaded your pretty capitol and we will give you a trouncing that won't soon be forgotten.

With perfect support Fleming would have had a 3 to 0 victory. He looks good the next time out, as our boys will not be so over-anxious later on.

Barnett played such an excellent game at short that there will be a meeting of the Blue Grass League clubs in Lexington to examine into the sanity of Dayton for selling him to Paris.

Vice-President C. R. James and Secretary Pearce Paton, the B. A. magnates, had to pay extra for extra seat room in the grand stand.

The fair bugles did not cry or swear, that is, out loud.

Dr. Usery swallowed 46 stogies and his medicine case in the ninth.

Jerry Wilson swelled up until he looked like Jolly Joe or Buster Sanford.

Anyone wanting a good bellows or calico buy G. Bacon.

Cheer up, "fans!" Paris outclassed them in base ball like she does everything else, and you know "how it are." We can't win all the time.

Everybody attend the opening game to day and root, root, root.

"Pepper" Parrish needs a little glue on his mit, at first, occasionally.

Reed, the brilliant left fielder of the Paris team, made as pretty a running catch of a fly at Winchester as was ever seen on a ball field.

One consolation, Wednesday, was that Richmond wallowed in the stuffing out of the Lexington team. There is always silver lining behind the blackest cloud.

We sailed high at Winchester, Wednesday for six innings when the motor got hot and we came to the ground with a thud.

Manager Elgin played his usual good game behind the bat. His men at times worked like the real things, out playing Winchester at every point of the game.

The return game at Winchester yesterday was won by Paris, but stolen by Umpire Donahue and presented to Winchester by a score of 9 to 8. Members of Winchester club admitted that Paris won the game, as did a number of the leading citizens of Winchester. It was the rawest steal ever seen on a ball field.

The players missed the train and we were unable to get the game by innings. However Reed made a three-bagger. Bardo made a three-bagger with three men on bases, all scoring. Little Key made three singles out of four times at bat and caught several nice flies. Oschs made a sensational catch in deep center and doubled at second base with a beautiful throw.

Who is Donahue? Where did he come from and what was his vocation before he landed in Winchester as an umpire? We don't like to squeal, or claim we were cheated but his name must be "Don-a-Paris," as that was what he did yesterday. His p's were a little unsteady Wednesday when he fell flat upon his stomach without the least provocation in order to make a decision to whether a runner was out or not. Do we really have to pay this man in money? Oh, you, Donahue, just wait until you come over this way. We will make you think the goblins got you sure enough. The game yesterday was protested. This same umpire (?) fell flat twice yesterday still local option prevails in half of Winchester. Wonder what he will do when he comes to Paris?

O'Donnell was invincible in the box during latter part of game yesterday. He will be pitted against the Shelbyville cracks today.

Robinson pitched an excellent game yesterday.

Narrow Escape from Serious Injury.

While Mrs. W. J. Clarke was driving in a buggy on Main street, Wednesday morning, in front of J. T. Hinton's furniture store, one of the front wheels of her buggy fell off, frightening her horse so that he plunged forward at breakneck speed up the street. In front of Oberdorfer's drug store was a heavily loaded farm wagon and other vehicles that almost blocked the street. Mrs. Clarke was still swinging to the lines and doing her best to stop the frightened animal. At this point the buggy with great force collided with the rear of another buggy, throwing Mrs. Clarke into the back of the top of the other buggy, then to the street. Every one who witnessed the accident thought she had certainly been killed when officer Ben Bishop arrived, the first to reach her side, she was the coolest one of the two and instructed him to catch the head of the horse before she let go the lines. Mr. Bishop wanted to send for a physician, but she informed him that she was not seriously hurt but was considerably bruised. She displayed more real bravery and rare presence of mind than has been seen in a woman for so many years. She is the wife of groceryman Clarke, in E.K.'s building.

Select Your Corset with Care.

Your appearance depends entirely upon your figure. Your figure depends entirely upon your corset. To produce the hipless figure with the slender, graceful lines now in vogue, a perfect corset must be worn, a model that will give you the desired effect and fit you comfortably. Since the introduction of the graceful, slender hip effect, we have satisfied a great many of our most particular customers, with the splendidly shaped Henderson Fashion Form Corsets. Note the stunning effect produced by the model illustrated.

This style, 702, is medium high in the bust and is extra long below the waistline, having a deep, soft extension over abdomen and hips and is double boned throughout. We carry this model in similar styles in several values, ranging in prices from $1.50 to $3.

Give them a trial.

The Largest Candle.

The biggest candle in the world has been made to burn in memory of an Italian detective of New York who was murdered in Italy. It cost $350 to make and is nine feet high and three feet six inches in circumference. It weighs one hundred and seventy-eight pounds and is almost completely covered with 14 karat gold leaf. The composition is Austrian beeswax, to which a slow burning substance has been added. It is computed that it will burn for four years and seven months.

Chester Park Cincinnati.

An ideal place for out-of-town visitors to spend a few hours while in Cincinnati this summer will be at Chester Park, which is now Cincinnati's largest and most beautiful amusement resort.
Among the newest features secured
are the Chester Ladies' Military Band,
an organization of talented and beauti-

will give concerts afternoons and even-free to everyone and will contain many specialties such as vocal and instrumental solos, illustrated songs, mov-

Wild West Shows will hold forth at Chester this season. The celebrated Flea Circus has been re-engaged. In this a company of trained fleas perform the most marvelous tricks and feats. Another big feature will be the International Congress of Living Wonders. These are but a few of the many things that Chester offers but suffice to show why this place has of late years become the best known summer amusement park in America. Sunday, May 2 will be "Inspection Day." The park will be open and everything except the vaudeville show will be running easier. The regular opening takes place

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange
the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on

Liver Trouble Remedy Free

Any intelligent person can be his own doctor in the ordinary case of liver trouble, for the symptoms cannot be mistaken. If the white of the eye becomes yellowish, if the skin becomes sallow, if pimples and blotches appear, if the bowels do not move, if you have sick headache, if you are bilious, you may be sure that your liver is torpid or inactive.
The quickest and surest remedy yet found for the cure of liver trouble or any of its symptoms is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound.
This wonderful remedy is not only a laxative, but a tonic as well. It will start the flow of gastric juice, thereby soon enabling the liver to do its work naturally. A bottle of this great liver remedy can be bought of any druggist for 50 cents or $1, and in many cases a single bottle has cured a chronic case.

For example, John W. Lee, 619 S. Pennsylvania ave., Indianapolis, Ind., had a stubborn and very long-standing case of liver trouble, with pimples, blotches, jaundice, etc., and it cured him. Mrs. B.
Fincham, Jackson, Ky., says the same of it. Thousands of families keep it in the house against just such an emergency, as you can never tell when some member of the family will need a good laxative.

In order to have you or any other sufferer from the liver make a test of Dr.
Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin without personal expense, Dr. Caldwell will send you a free test bottle if you will send your name and address. The sample will show you how pleasant it is to take, how gently it works. It will start you on the cure of your trouble and convince you that you have found a cure. This is the object of the sample, and the doctor urges you to send for it today.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service.

of corsetry, boned in such a manner as to give the wearer absolute freedom of movement.

The Cause of It.

Corn is, without question, the leading crop of this country, and there is no reason why Kentucky should not be a valuable corn growing State. By careful experiments it has been shown that a field of corn from tested seed will yield one-fourth to one-third larger crop than the ordinary field of corn from untested seed. At any rate, the farmers of Kentucky know that the yield of corn in this State for the last quarter of a century has not been as large as it should have been. This lack of yield was not due to bad soil, or bad cultivation, and we can assign no better cause for it than the use of bad seed.

Chief Cause for Thankfulness.

There was a good deal of sound human nature in the unexpected reply of the dying old woman to her minister's leading question: "Here at the end of a long life, which of the Lord's mercies are you most thankful for?" Her eyes brightened as she answered: "My victuals."

Duty on Coffee.

John G. Carlisle yesterday filed a brief with the Senate Committee on Finance, asking that a duty of 4 cents a pound be imposed on coffee. Mr. Carlisle contends that the tax will produce $39,000,000 annually and that the price will not be increased to the consumer, but will be taken off the dealer's profit.

The Majority is Never Right?

The majority is never right. Never, I say. This is one of those society lies which a free, thinking man must rebel against. Who are they that make up the majority of a country's inhabitants? Are they the wise or the ignorant? I believe that we must agree that the ignorant are overwhelmingly in the majority everywhere on the wide earth. But it is never right that the ignorant should rule over the intelligent. — Henrik Ibsen.

With Broughton Brandenburg, arrested in San Francisco as a fugitive from justice in New York, was found James Shepard Cabanna III, who disappeared from his father's home in St. Louis recently. Brandenburg admitted taking the boy from St. Louis in a wicker basket, but said he did it with the authority of his wife, who formerly was Mrs. Cabanna. Brandenburg will be taken to New York to face trial on the charge of larceny growing out of the forged Cleveland letter incident.

is hard to please when it comes to laundrying; he knows how his shirts, collars and cuffs should be done up. We have no thought of doing anything but the best laundry work possible, none of returning it except as promised. It will take many a long day's search to find a better laundry than this.
